The Riviera del Brenta is a famous district known for the excellence of its luxury footwear worldwide. The origin of the success of artisan entrepreneurship in the high-quality shoe sector dates back to the 13th-14th century, in close connection with the movements of Venetian nobles. When the wealthy patricians of the Serenissima went up the Brenta river to spend their summer holidays in their villas they used to be accompanied by servants, including the "calegheri", cobblers and others who gradually brought their knowledge and their artisan art to the areas of the Riviera. Among the most famous luxury shoe shops we find: Fratelli Rossi in Vigonza, Del Brenta in Perarolo di Vigonza, BB Shoes in Fiesso, Corte della Pelle in Fiesso, Voltan in Strà and Tacchificio Riviera in Vigonovo. In addition to the exclusive shopping that the Riviera offers, it is possible to visit the Museum of Historical Footwear at Villa Foscari in Strà, which tells the story of the Rossi family in the footwear sector, but is also a collector of knowledge and the history of stylistic evolution of a brand.
